

Moderator Briefing

Thank-you for helping IEPEC create the most unique energy policy and program evaluation database in the world. We appreciate the time and effort you contribute to this process.

We have heard from the participants that our content is solid, our presentations are not so. This year we have arranged for a professional speech/voice coach to spend 45 minutes with three groups of 15 speakers to help guide them in producing better presentations. You can alert your speakers to this option and suggest that they sign-up as soon as we send out the invitation.

Your webcast briefing options are below. We will review your and your speakers role, responsibilities and resources. We will also provide tips on registration to save money. Allocate 30 minutes
